

A Storybird

The Non Meat Eating Leopard

by Edwin

A Storybird
The Non Meat Eating Leopard

By
Edwin
Illustrated by art of shishir
Published on
May 4, 2011

© Storybird 2011. All rights reserved. Not for resale.

Once upon a time there was a leopard. His name was Leo, short for Leonardo. Leonardo was a leopard you will never run into because he is a leopard like none other. He DID NOT EAT MEAT! No one expected that of him.

Leo was the only leopard who would eat vegetables. Every one thought he was a lunatic. Everyone told him to be a regular leopard.

Then Leo found a hole in the canyon next to the water fall. While he was still crying. he said, “If I can’t tell any one who I truly am. I will trick them into believing that I’m a carnivore.”

Then he was on the look out because he thought they would find out his plan. Then he found a baby zebra . “Perfect,” he said.

Then he pulled out his claws! He went up to the little baby zebra and said, “Would you let me kill you but I won’t really kill you. I will just go to that rock over there. You walk by and I’ll just jump out from behind and pretend to attack you”.

Then he walked slowly to the rock grinning. Then seconds later, he got to the rock, then the little baby zebra came dashing through . Then Leo thought something was going to go wrong.

Then he attacked the little baby zebra. As soon as he attacked, he saw something. He really killed the baby zebra. Then he said, “I did not mean to! Well, now that it is here, I might as well try it.”

“Now that I got rid of my problems, I will just live eating meat. I’m glad that happened or else I would have never known how to”.

The End

The world needs your stories

storybird.com